As we celebrate the Ascension of the Lord, let's heed the words of St. Augustine: "Today our Lord Jesus Christ ascended into heaven; let our hearts ascend with him" (Sermon on the Ascension, 1). So let's lift our hearts and let Jesus give us a glimpse of all that he has accomplished by his ascension to heaven. Let's praise him for his heavenly glory!

"Jesus, you are seated at the Father's right hand (Ephesians 1:20)! As the eternal Son of God, you have glory beyond my wildest imagination. Angels bow before you and sing your praises. Let my voice be one with theirs as I proclaim your praises today!

"When you ascended, Jesus, you gave us access to the Father's house. Now I can have confidence that where you have gone, I can also follow—not just in spirit, but as you did, in bodily form. I praise you, Lord, because your ascension shows me that I can have hope of the resurrection of my own body.

"In your heavenly splendor, Jesus, you continue to love me and give yourself for me. Now I know that you are the eternal high priest. Your glorified body still bears the marks of your crucifixion, and your sacrifice never ceases to bring glory to your Father. Thank you, Jesus that you are always interceding for me, for my loved ones, and for all people everywhere.

"Jesus, your dominion and glory and heavenly kingdom will never end. You have been enthroned, and all of creation has been placed beneath your feet. Now I can look to you in hope, trusting your power to act. Glory to you, Lord Jesus, who fill all things in every way (Ephesians 1:23)!"

"When we are before the Blessed Sacrament, instead of looking about us, let us shut our eyes and open our hearts; and the good God will open his. We will go to him, and he will come to us, the one to give, and the other to receive. It will be like a breath passing from one to the other. What delight we find in forgetting ourselves that we may seek God." ~ St. John Vianney

Saint

Of the Week

St. Bertha

Foundress of Hospices

Feast Day: May 15

It is believed Bertha was born in the eighth century. Little is known of her early life, except that Bertha came from a wealthy family and married a pagan who later died in battle.

Bertha then devoted herself to God's service and to raising her son Rupert as a Christian. It was the beginning of the mother and son's lifelong relationship of deep spiritual companionship.

From a very early age, Rupert showed a keen understanding of Jesus' teachings. When Bertha told him that she planned to pay for a church to be built, Rupert replied, "But first we must obey God and give bread to the hungry and clothe the naked." Touched by her Rupert's compassion, Bertha used her considerable wealth to establish several hospices for the poor and the sick.

Solace through Solitude

A few years later, Bertha and Rupert made a pilgrimage to Rome. As her faith deepened, Bertha decided to give away the last of her land and money to the poor and move, with Rupert, to Bingen (now part of Germany) so that they could lead a more spiritual life. Mother and son spent the rest of their lives there in solitude and contemplation.

Rupert died at the early age of 20, but Bertha lived 25 more years as a recluse on a hill, which became known as Rupertsburg, meaning "Rupert's Mountain." Bertha was buried alongside her beloved son in a convent cemetery along the banks of the Nahe River.

The moving story of Bertha and Rupert might have been lost if it had not been for the great mystic, writer and musician St. Hildegard of Bingen, who lived in the same region some three centuries later. Hildegard celebrated their lives in her Vita Sancti Ruperti.

“One must pass through solitude and swell in it to receive God’s grace. It is there that one empties oneself, that one drives before oneself all that is not God, and that one completely empties this little house of our soul to leave room for God alone. In doing this, do not fear being unfaithful toward creatures. On the contrary, that is the only way for you to serve them effectively.”

Charles de Foucauld, founder of the Little Brothers and Sisters of Jesus.
