“His heart was moved.”

An anyone who is a parent or caretaker of young children can relate to the dilemma Jesus’ apostles faced in today’s Gospel. They had just returned from their first attempts at preaching the good news and healing the sick (Mark 6:30). It must have been so exciting seeing God work so powerfully through them. But missionary work is demanding, so they were probably bone-tired as well. They must have appreciated Jesus’ suggestion: “Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while” (6:31).

But their plans were disrupted when a huge crowd showed up. They must have felt the way exhausted parents can feel when everyone in the house has come down with the flu: stretched beyond their limits and more than a little dispirited. Some of them might have even wished that the people would go home—and take their diseases, their demons, and their troubles with them.

But not Jesus. In contrast to his apostles, he put aside his hopes for some R & R and devoted his whole day to teaching them “many things” (Mark 6:34). He saw a need and he met it—immediately and unquestioningly.

What a marvel Jesus is! We all get tired at times, and some of us are always tired. But the God of Israel “never slumbers nor sleeps” (Psalm 121:4). Jesus never gets worn out. He never complains, and he never feels sorry for himself. Just as he did throughout his life, and especially on the cross, he continues to give without counting the cost.

Hold this image of Jesus close to your heart as you celebrate Mass today. Believe that, in the midst of all the other prayers arising to him right now, he still sees you and hears you. He is never too tired for you; he always has time for you. So quiet your racing heart and let him minister to you. Bring him your needs, and wait patiently to hear what he has to say to you.

St. Clare is looking for a few people who would like to help out with cleaning the church on Thursday mornings. Any amount of time you can give would be so appreciated. We currently have about four ladies trying to keep up, but it is getting difficult for them to do everything needed. Shared duties include dusting, changing holy water weekly, cleaning bathrooms, cleaning the glass panes in the church doors inside, etc. It only takes an hour or so of cleaning when we have enough parishioners helping.

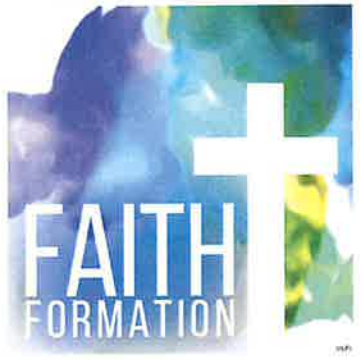

Please pray about this. If you have any questions you can phone Myra at 228-342-7209. Thank you!

I prayed for you today

O Almighty Eternal God,
Look upon the face of Thy Christ,
and for the love of Him, Who is the Eternal High Priest, have pity on Thy priests.
Remember, O most compassionate God,
that they are but weak and frail human beings.
Stir up in them the grace of their vocation which is in them by the imposition of the Bishop's hands.
Keep them close to Thee,
lest the enemy prevail against them,
so that they may never do anything in the slightest degree unworthy of their sublime vocation.

Saint

Of the Week

Patron of those who suffer in body & soul
Feast Day: July 24

Only one thing is necessary for Catholicism to flourish—authentic lives. Throughout history, wherever you find men and women genuinely striving to live the Christian life, the Church has always blossomed. If we wish to speak effectively to the modern world about God, the Christian life, and Catholicism, we must be thriving, blossoming, and flourishing in that life.

The best way to speak about God is to thrive in the life he calls us to live.

St. Charbel thrived in the utterly unique life God called him to live. He lived it authentically, and has inspired generations of Catholics to do the same ever since. Charbel was a Maronite Catholic monk and priest. The Maronite Church is an Eastern Catholic Church based in Lebanon, where Charbel was born and raised. Charbel lived in a monastery for 16 years, but eventually he felt God call him to become a hermit. Charbel followed, and God led him to a small stone house where he could say Mass.

For 23 years, he lived as a hermit, devoting himself entirely to prayer, contemplation, and manual labor. St. Charbel lived an authentic life, and miracles attributed to him continue to the current time, showing just how powerful an effect living authentically has on the world.

God calls each of us to live an authentic life.

He doesn't call you to live an authentic life in order to stifle or control you. He invites you to live an authentic life so that, from an infinite number of possibilities, you can become the-best-version-of-yourself. In a very beautiful way God wants you to be yourself. But not the self your ego wants you to be, and not the self the world wants you to be. Rather, the self God had in mind when he created you. By calling you to live an authentic life, God is saying, "Be all I create you to be."

The authentic life begins with the simple desire to be who God created us to be and cooperate with God by playing the part he has designed for us in human history.

The adventure of salvation begins when we stop asking, "What's in it for me?" and turn humbly to God in our hearts and ask, How may I serve? What work do you wish for me to do with my life? What is your will for my life?

Begin living authentically today, and embrace the adventure. You never know where God is going to take you.
