The 3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

“His disciples
believe in him.”

In today’s Gospel, John tells how Jesus rescued a wedding reception by changing water into wine. This was Jesus’ first miracle, and John tells us that when the disciples saw Jesus do it, they “began to believe in him” (John 2:11).

Of course they began to believe in him! Jesus had just done something that seemed impossible. How could they not be moved? Not only did Jesus reveal his ability to perform miracles, but he revealed his concern for the father of the bride, who was about to be humiliated before all his guests.

But John also makes it clear that this was the beginning of the disciples’ journey of faith, not the end. That journey would include times when they trusted in Jesus’ power and his compassion—like when they decided to stay with him after everyone else walked away (John 6:60-69). And it would include times when fear, pride, or sin caused them to doubt him—as Peter did when he denied knowing the Lord (18: 15-18, 25-27).

Like the disciples, we, too, are on a journey of faith marked by highs and lows. We all have times when we trust that Jesus can do what seems impossible—and we have times when we fail to trust in his power and compassion.

Take this Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, for instance. Throughout the week, believers from all Christian traditions will come together to pray for an end to divisions in the body of Christ. It takes faith to join with people whose traditions and worship look different from ours and pray that God will make us one. We may think that unity is impossible, even for God. Or we may personally not want to extend Jesus’ compassion and care to those who are divided from us.

Jesus can do the impossible! So let’s believe his promises. Let’s take a step of faith and join with our brothers and sisters this week in praying, “Lord, make us one!”

Of the Week

St. John, the Almsgiver

Patriarch of Alexandria

Feast Day: January 23

John was born into a wealthy, noble family on the island of Cyprus around 550. He led a life typical of Cypriot nobility, marrying a woman of high standing and having several children. But sadly, his wife and all his children died before John was 50 years old.

Then, in about 608, John was named Patriarch of Alexandria in Egypt. Upon his arrival, John asked his officials for a list of all of "his masters." Not understanding, they asked him who were "his masters?" John, then, simply replied, "the poor." He was given a list of 7,500 people whom he gladly took under his special protection. One of John's first official acts was to give away 80,000 pieces of gold that he found in his church treasury. This was the first of so many generous acts that he became known as the Almsgiver or the Almoner.

A Man for All People

Every Wednesday and Friday, John sat on a bench in front of his church so he would be available to everyone. He visited the hospitals three times each week, freed many slaves, forbade his officers and servants to accept gifts to avoid bribery, and build more than 60 churches in Alexandria.

John lived a simple life. In one instance, a man discovered that John had only a scraggly blanket to cover himself at night. The man gave John an expensive blanket, but John sold it and gave the money to the poor. The donor repeatedly gave John new blankets, and John continued to dispose of them the same way.

When the Persians attacked Jerusalem, John took in refugees. He also sent funds and 1,000 workmen to help rebuild the city's churches. But eventually, the Persians invaded Alexandria, and John was forced to flee to his homeland of Cyprus, where he died peacefully.

Do you feel called to serve as an Extraordinary minister of the Holy Communion (EM)?

You will offer the Eucharist, the Body and Blood of Christ to those who receive communion and fully participate in the life of the parish and the wider community. You must have a willingness to be formed in the ministry of the Church and an abiding reverence for the presence of Christ in the Eucharist. You should be a communicant and in Good Standing with the Church.

This is a commitment to making yourself available through a monthly schedule. Training will be provided.

Please pray to God and discern if you are called to this ministry. Contact Charles Walden, 985-285-2997 if you are interested. We are in need of servers for Saturday, 4 pm Vigil Mass and Sunday, 11 am Mass.
