The 6th Sunday in Ordinary Time

“Blessed are you who are poor.”

Can you imagine telling someone without a job or a place to live, “Look at how much God has blessed you!” That’s not something anyone should do, and it’s not what Jesus is doing in today’s Gospel. He is doing two things: he is proclaiming God’s care and concern for those who are materially poor, and he is announcing blessings on “his disciples,” who have “left everything and followed him” (Luke 6:20; 5:11). He is blessing all those who have accepted the poverty, the hardship, and the rejection they are experiencing as followers of Jesus.

The Greek word that is translated as “blessed” in today’s Gospel carries a number of meanings, including “happy,” “fortunate,” or “enjoying divine favor.” So Jesus is reinforcing for his disciples that the life they have chosen is ultimately a life of happiness. He promises them “the kingdom of God” (Luke 6:20). He promises them that the day is coming when they, along with all those trapped in poverty, will “laugh” and “leap for joy” (6:21, 23).

He makes the same promises to you. Jesus knows how challenging it can be to live out the call to discipleship. He knows there are days when you feel as if you’re always swimming against the current of the world. He sees the sacrifices you make to be generous with your resources. He sees your humility as you strive to forgive those who have hurt you.

If this describes you in any way, then know that Jesus calls you blessed. Know that he is promising you all the joys of his kingdom. And know that he is blessing you right now. As Jeremiah proclaimed in today’s first reading, he is making you as strong as a “tree planted beside the waters” (17:8). Even if you don’t feel particularly blessed today, you can still take heart because Jesus is faithful to all his promises.

Of the Week

St. Serenus the Gardener

Feast Day: February 23

Martyr & Patron of Gardners

Serenus was born in Greece in the third century during the rule of Emperor Maximian. A devout and holy man, he decided to give away all his material possessions and dedicate his life to virtue and prayer.

Serenus was a highly skilled gardener and lived off only what he grew in his garden in Syrmium, in present-day Croatia. For a time, he enjoyed a quiet life, praying and tending to his crops, but the Christians once again became a target of persecutions by a Roman emperor, and Serenus was forced to flee for his life. He went into hiding for several months, and when he finally returned home, he found all the Christians had been either exiled or killed.

Alone, he lived his life dedicated to his faith, spending time working in his garden and praying.

Faithful and Innocent

Still a handsome, hardworking youth, Serenus caught the attention of the wife of one of the emperor's guards. Serenus rejected the lady's advances, telling her that infidelity would dishonor her and her husband. This angered the guard's wife, and in retaliation she complained to her husband that the gardener had insulted her.

The guard went to the governor, and Serenus was made to stand trial. The young man made such a brilliant defense in court that the woman's husband believed Serenus and was convinced of his wife's guilt. The charges were dropped, and Serenus was acquitted.

The trial, however, aroused the governor's suspicions that someone what was as scrupulous as Serenus must be a Christian. The gardener was ordered to offer a sacrifice to the pagan gods, but he refused and without hesitating professed his true faith. The quiet, faithful man was immediately beheaded.
