The 4th Sunday of Lent

reconciled to God.”

These four words from St. Paul are a great summary of what Lent is all about. But just what does it mean to “be reconciled to God” (2 Corinthians 5:20)?

For Paul, reconciliation with God meant to be restored to God’s favor. He taught that we have all turned away from God through sin, but that in Christ, God has brought us back. By coming into this world as a man and offering himself on the cross, Jesus has repaired the breach in our relationship with God. He has done something we could never do on our own. “All this,” Paul wrote, “is from God, who has reconciled us to himself through Christ” (2 Corinthians 5:18). Now the Lord asks us to receive the favor he holds out to us.

And what favor it is! We can live as sons and daughters of God; we can experience all the riches of heaven filling our hearts. Sin might cloud our relationship with him, but our heavenly Father continues to offer us his mercy. It’s as if we hear

God calling out to us personally as we read Paul’s words.

We can hear our Father’s pleas in today’s Gospel story of the prodigal son, too. The father of the prodigal stands ready, on the lookout, to welcome his wayward younger son back into the family. And he goes out to beg his resentful older son to join him and experience the fullness of life that is already his.

Lent is a perfect season to lay hold of this restoration in a new and deeper way. And what better way to do it than through the Sacrament of Reconciliation! The examination of conscience on page 74 can help you prepare to receive this sacrament with an open heart. So let your heavenly Father restore you through the life-giving power of Jesus’s death and resurrection. Listen to his voice as he pleads with you to receive all the riches of his “home.” It’s all there—come and receive it!

Of the Week

The son of farmers, Francis was born in 1416. Named in honor of St. Francis of Assisi, Francis of Paola was greatly influenced by him throughout his life. At age 12, Francis spent a year at a Franciscan monastery. While still in his teens, Francis went to live as a hermit, devoting himself to prayer and fasting. Over the years, he would become known for his piety and the miracles he worked to save others from injury or death.

Two neighbors soon joined Francis at his retreat, and local residents built cells for them and a small chapel. Francis attracted more followers, and they called themselves the Hermits of Brother Francis of Assisi. The Order received a papal blessing in 1474. Later, Francis changed the name to Friars Minim, or "least brothers."

Francis demanded the Monks practice penance, charity and humility. The brothers also took a special vow to eat only a Lenten diet – no meat, eggs or dairy products were allowed.

From Solitude to Court

Despite his devotion to solitude, Francis could not escape worldly matters. In 1483, Pope Innocent IV asked him to honor an invitation from France's King Louis XI. Francis went reluctantly and continued to live simply, fasting and sleeping on a board. The monk remained at the French court for more than two decades, serving as both a spiritual and political adviser.

From Solitude to Court

Francis never returned to Italy. He died in France on Good Friday in 1507 and was quickly beatified and canonized. In the 20th century, Francis was declared the patron saint of sailors and other seafarers, because many of his miraculous acts took place at or near the sea.
